Question Three:

Section 2: reading

Reading

Every morning, billionaire Milton petrie walked from his New York apartment and bought anewspaper from the ragged old man on the street corner. One morning the man wasn't there. Petrie learned that he was very ill in the city hospital. Immediately he paid his hospital bill and Later,when the man died, paid for his funeral. The old man was just one of many people that Milton Pertrie helped with his money. Whenever he read about personal disaster in his newspaper petrie sent generous cheques, especially to the families of policeman or firemen injured at work. He also sent cheques to a mother who lost five children in afire, and a beautiful model, whose face was cut in a knife attack. It cost him millions of dollars, but he still had millions left. He said that he was lucky in business and he wanted to help those less fortunate than himself. The nice thing is. The harder I work, the more money I make, and the more people I can help. Milton petrie died in 1994, when he was 92. His will was 120 pages because he left 150$ million to 383 people. His widow, carroll, his fourth and last wife, said his generosity was a result of the poverty of his family were poor but kind-hearted. His father was Russian immigrant who becomes a policeman, he was too kind. He couldn't even give a parking ticket.
